MARKETING ACTIVITIES/PROMOTIONAL STRATEGIES

The following methods are integral to achieving the marketing goals of the college.

However, funding resources may impact the ability to implement all of the planned activities.

Website

The College website is the first contact that most prospective students will have with the College. Therefore, this communication channel should be utilized as the College's number one marketing tool. While we have invested in some website improvements, it is crucial that we continue to evaluate and make improvements. We must develop a process for regularly evaluating all information shown on the website. We need to systematically assess the data regarding the hits per day, how long visitors stay, where they spend time, etc. Monitoring this data to track the effectiveness of campaigns and marketing initiatives will help us measure the impact of our efforts. It is believed that this is an excellent time to closely monitor our website so that we may maximize our full enrollment potential.

Community Outreach/Public Relations

- Provide key messages/materials to Trenholm State faculty and staff to increase their ability to raise support and advocate for the College.
- Provide employees with current and relevant stories and information for presentations.
- Ensure a consistent look to posters, fliers, brochures, etc.

President's Outreach

- Ensure that the President is visible to the public by establishing an ongoing schedule of community activities.
- Coordinate electronic communications to individuals identified as key supporters.
- Ensure that the President is visible in college newsletters.
- Create a President's Corner section in the monthly newsletter

Business Partnerships

- Partner to maximize advertising efforts and communication opportunities that demonstrate the mutually beneficial relationship between the College and the business community.
- Establish ongoing relationships with key business leaders to keep them up-to-date of college activities.

Brand Development- College branding begins with the internal structure of the College.

Before we extend outside of the college, we must educate the faculty, staff and students so that they may effectively share our key messages and improve word-of-mouth communications.

- Create a College Brand Guide for faculty and staff that can be used as a quick reference for key messages, graphics standards and suggestions for developing written and verbal communications.
- Coordinate brand training for faculty, staff and the Marketing Committee.
- Create and distribute information to include proper use of the correct logo, use of correct colors; make sure stationery is consistent.

Events- Support the planning and promotion of key events for the purpose of community outreach and student recruitment.

Promotional Items- Coordinate the production of branded promotional items for distribution at various events to support recruitment activities.

Media and Public Relations

- Media Planning- Determine the appropriate media mix for college promotions. This will include a media strategy targeted for specific audiences, a flowchart summarizing the action elements of the strategy and will prioritize optimizing relationships.

- Earned Media- Update PR plan to include editorial opportunities and secure publicity to feature important college events and accomplishments.
- Media Placement- Negotiate rates, place media, track and evaluate media placements.
- Social Media- Develop a strategy for utilizing social media tools to promote the College and provide opportunities for students to connect via these tools.

EVALUATION

This plan provides a detailed description of the activities that will create a strong marketing initiative for Trenholm State Technical College. Through frequent evaluations, the College will determine if goals were achieved within the scheduled time and if marketing strategies enhanced the College's goals and mission to contribute to the accomplishments of said objectives in academics, alumni relations, student recruitment, image building and/or relations with business and industry.

The College will use assessment tools to evaluate and utilize input from the College's Marketing Team to measure progress. Through evaluation and research, the College will adapt or supplement its marketing strategies to meet the overall objectives of the plan. The objectives and strategies are flexible and can be amended to meet the specific and periodic needs of the College.

The results of this marketing plan will be evaluated and will assist the College in the development of future plans to meet long-range goals and objectives. Activities will be prioritized according to the budget and updated to meet the changing needs of the College.

The Marketing Plan is submitted to the President's Cabinet for review and final approval each year.
